13 Roy Hideschmeir (phonetic).

14 THE COURT: All right. Thank you all for coming.
15 We've got a lot on the agenda today, and I have some concerns
16 and global questions that I want to address and have input 17 from the attorneys.

18 Maybe the first thing to do would be to see if there 19 are any matters that we could deal with quickly.

20 MS. HALL: Your Honor, this is Terry Hall for the 21 Trustee. I believe that if we go under new matters, #8, the 22 sale agreement, and then the East-West Trucking matters, and 23 the Okie Farms, that is -- those are three related areas where 24 we have -- I believe have an agreement with all the parties, 25 and a potential agreed order.

1 So if we -- if we do those, which would be #8 on 2 page 5 of the agenda under New Matters, and then --

3 THE COURT: So you've resolved the limited 4 objection that I think had to do with the acknowledgment of 5 the bank's entitlement to the proceeds, and you've resolved 6 that?

7 MS. HALL: I believe so.

8 THE COURT: Or you've agreed to wait to resolve 9 that?

10 MR. CARR: No, we've resolved it, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: You have.

12 MR. CARR: Yes.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MS. HALL: So, Jim, do you want to --

15 MR. CARR: Yeah, I -- Your Honor --

16 MS. HALL: Would that be okay, Your Honor, to go 17 through those --

18 THE COURT: Yes, let's do that.

19 MS. HALL: -- items first?

20 MR. CARR: I'm going to try to compress this, but 21 make it somewhat understandable. Since June of 2003, Eastern 22 Livestock has owned all of an entity called Okie Farms, LLC.
23 Okie Farms, in turn, owns ownership interest in Cattlemen's 24 Feed Lot, Limited, a Texas limited partnership; and the 25 interests its owns are either direct or indirect ownership

1 interests as part of it is through the ownership of a part of 2 the general partner, and the other party's a limited 3 partnership interest. It owns about 48 per cent of 4 Cattlemen's.

5 One of the early things that happened in these cases 6 was a dispute about a transaction that involved Eastern, East-7 West Trucking, and Cattlemen's. And I think one of the very 8 first things we faced in these cases was a motion for relief 9 from stay from Cattlemen's, who -- and it was all based on a 10 fairly convoluted triangular transaction among Eastern, East-11 West Trucking, and Cattlemen's -- and too confusing to get 12 into now -- maybe we don't even have to get into it again; but 13 in any event, there's been a number of claims that have been 14 asserted about cattle that were sold in that transaction and 15 proceeds, at the same time, operating on effectively a 16 parallel path.

17 We've been talking with Messrs. Massouh and Huffaker 18 who represent Cattlemen's about the disposition, the sale or 19 redemption of the 48 per cent interest that Okie owns in 20 Cattlemen's. And we've come to an agreement, and we were 21 pushed from our side to come to that agreement because the 48
22 per cent interest was a minority position. We had a minority 23 position in the general partner. We had no control over the 24 feed lot, no ability to force distributions; and no ability to 25 force a redemption, except for in one circumstance --

1 interestingly enough, or macabre enough -- if Mr. Gibson were 2 to die, then we had a right to redeem; but, you know, nobody 3 knew if and when -- well, we know it's going to happen, I
4 guess; but we certainly didn't know when. And so we couldn't 5 -- it was a sort of a trapped minority position.

6 What they have been doing for years, which I
7 understand is typical of the feed lot industry, is they feed 8 all the cows, but they don't sell all the cows in a given 9 year. And they take the expense for income tax purposes for 10 all the feed that they buy, but they don't have all the 11 corresponding income; and so they built up over the years a 12 rolling tax roll-forward liability of something on the order 13 of 18 million dollars.

14 And so when we negotiated their purchase of our 15 interest in Cattlemen's, they agreed to pay us three million 16 dollars for our interest; but they asked, because we were 17 going to stop the merry-go-round with regard to this rolling 18 tax liability, that we go ahead and recognize the next eight 19 million dollars in change, which was our share of that tax 20 roll-forward liability.

21 Now what's of utmost interest to us is the fact that 22 the way that Okie is organized, it's a limited liability
23 company with a single member owner, ELC; and ELC is a limited 24 liability company whose members are Mr. Gibson, Mrs. Gibson, 25 and the Gibson Trust. All tax -- all income passes through to 1 the Gibsons. That's the way it is. That's the way it has 2 always been, so that doing this transaction and recognizing 3 the eight million dollars of income will have no impact -- 4 should have no impact, tax impact, on either ELC or Okie, 5 because the income will pass through to the Gibsons.

6 The difficulty is that the way that the federal 7 regulations governing the taxation of limited liability 8 companies work, it is arguable -- outside of bankruptcy, at 9 least -- that these ultimate owners can at virtually any time 10 change the tax status by doing what's called in the parlance, 11 "check the box." It's our belief that once Eastern -- and by 12 "checking the box," they would then change the tax status so 13 those two entities -- Okie and Eastern -- would be taxed as 14 corporations where the income would get trapped in the entity.

15 It is our position that once there are bankruptcies, 16 and there will always -- you know, there has been one for 17 Eastern for a year, and we recently filed one for Okie -- that 18 tax status is property of those bankruptcy estates, and those 19 owners no longer have the ability to change the tax status of 20 those entities. Only -- only the debtor, only the Trustee has 21 that ability.

22 However, it's such an important issue that we want
23 to make sure. And so not only did we file a motion in the ELC 24 case for authorization to do this transaction, and then put 25 Okie in the Chapter 11 to file a motion to seek approval of a

1 363 sale of the partnership interest, but we also filed two 2 adversary proceedings seeking preliminary injunctions to 3 enjoin the Gibsons from attempting to change the tax status of 4 those entities, and the Court has scheduled those two 5 preliminary injunction matters and I think has accelerated the 6 trial on the merits for next week -- December 22.

7 So what's here before us today is the approval of 8 the sale, but it's -- but it -- what we're asking for is 9 authorization to do the transaction, not requiring us to do it 10 because we have to remain satisfied through the result of 11 those hearings next week that we don't have any risk that the 12 tax status will change.

13 So that's what we proposed. We have negotiated an 14 order that has been signed. We had one objection, of course, 15 and that was from Ms. DelCotto. We've negotiated an order.
16 I circulated last night effectively what we've -- we've 17 modified it slightly, and effectively what it does is make 18 sure that what we want to do after this transaction is over is 19 upstream the three million dollars from Okie, because as far 20 as we can tell Okie has no other business, no other activity
21 -- we want to upstream it up into Eastern; but the ownership 22 -- but that upstreaming, that dividending of the three million
23 dollars of Okie up to Eastern would be on account of Eastern's 24 ownership of Okie; and Fifth Third has a pre-petition lien 25 generally on all general intangibles, and I think I've

1 convinced the folks -- convinced myself, and then I think I've 2 convinced the folks here that when that money gets dividended 3 up to Eastern, it would become the proceeds of the -- the 4 equity interest that was liened to Fifth Third, and so the 5 lien would continue in the proceeds in Eastern, subject to the 6 provisions of our financing order, which reserves all the 7 rights and defenses with respect to Fifth Third, including, 8 you know, some -- a right that continues to exist that the 9 estate could seek equitable subordination of Fifth Third's 10 lien, all of that.

11 So that's the order we would give to the Court, 12 which would in the two bankruptcy cases approve the sale, 13 authorize us to close, but not require it, because of the need 14 to complete the adversary hearings next week. So if all that 15 happens and all that goes as we hope it will, then the estate
16 should receive -- first Okie should receive three million 17 dollars, which will then be upstreamed up to Eastern and will 18 go into the Trustee's general operating account, all subject 19 to the financing order.

20 The other piece of this is that I believe the East-21 West Trustee is seeking -- I know the East-West Trustee is 22 seeking approval today of the settlement with Cattlemen's of 23 that whole dispute that we had way back when; and we're 24 willing to agree with that and go along with it, subject to 25 the closing of this transaction, and this order provides for 1 that as well.

2 THE COURT: All right.

3 MR. CARR: That they would get approval for that, 4 except for the conditional objections that have been filed by 5 the Eastern Trustee and Fifth Third, which will go away once 6 the transaction is consummated and closed, which we all hope 7 will happen before the end of the year.

8 THE COURT: All right. So is anybody else going 9 to be heard on the motion to approve sale agreement and 10 compromise the claims?

11 MR. MASSOUH: Your Honor, John Massouh on behalf 12 of Cattlemen's Feedlot. I think Mr. Carr accurately 13 summarized the situation here, and I think the objections have 14 been resolved, and the order as proposed by Mr. Carr is 15 satisfactory. Cattlemen's main concern was that they 16 purchase this interest in Okie Farms, and obviously they get 17 the interest free and clear of any liens, interest, claims 18 whatsoever; and I think that the order proposed by Mr. Carr 19 satisfies that, so we ask the Court to approve the sale motion 20 in the Eastern case, and then likewise to approve the motion
21 to compromise with the East-West Trustee on the East-West 22 proceeds, as that relating to the Cattlemen's motion for 23 relief from stay.

24 THE COURT: All right.

25 MR. CARR: Can I say one more thing, Your Honor?

1 Just out of caution. As often is the case, this order asks
2 the Court to make a finding that the negotiation of the sale 3 happened in good faith. We don't propose to put -- have 4 either Mr. Ruffinock (phonetic) or anybody else testify. I
5 will represent to the Court that this was negotiated at arm's 6 length between representatives of Okie and the Trustee and 7 representatives of Cattlemen's; and I guess I would ask that 8 we can get that finding as part of the order.

9 Of course what that allows us to do then is close--

10 THE COURT: I understand.

11 MR. CARR: -- without waiting through the appeal 12 period.

13 THE COURT: Does anybody else want to be heard?

14 MS. CARUSO: Yes, Your Honor. I'm Debbie Caruso.
15 I'm obviously for the estate of the Gibsons, and I wanted to 16 clarify an understanding that we do have, that the Gibson 17 bankruptcy estate abandoned the interest of ELC. All tax 18 reporting will be done under Mr. Gibson's individual Tax I.D.
19 number, Social Security number.

20 MR. CARR?: That's correct, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: That's -- he's indicated that's part of 22 the agreement.

23 MS. CARUSO: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: All right, I'll grant the motion, and I 25 will including a finding of good faith. What about the 1 joint administration motion. Ms. Hall -- that's #9.

2 MS. HALL: Yes, Your Honor. We could probably do 3 that and the move over to the East-West Trucking case that has 4 the complementary thing --

5 MR. MASSOUH: I just wanted to make sure we 6 addressed the East-West Trucking motion as well, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: We're going to.

8 MS. HALL: #9 --

9 THE COURT: So no one has objected to the joint 10 administration, have they?

11 MS. HALL: No, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: I'll show that that's granted also.

13 Then moving into the East-West Trucking case --

14 MS. HALL: Item # -- starting with Item #15, Your 15 Honor.

16 THE COURT: Yes, the motion for relief filed by 17 Cattlemen's. That's withdrawn, is that correct?

18 MR. MASSOUH: That's correct, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: The Trustee's -- #16 is the Trustee's 20 motion for authority to pay certain priority claims of Connie 21 Pruitt.

22 MS. LALLY: Yes, Your Honor. Elizabeth Lally on 23 behalf of Trustee Walro. We -- this is the third pre-24 petition wage claim that we had, and it's for $4,086, and we 25 do not believe that paying this is a priority and would have

1 any effect on distribution to other creditors.

2 THE COURT: I'll show that motion's granted. We 3 have the motion to assume the executory contract with 4 Cattlemen's Feed Lot.

5 MS. LALLY: Yes, Your Honor. Elizabeth Lally on 6 behalf of the Trustee Walro for Docket #238. The motion to 7 assume the executory contract with Cattlemen's is a precursor
8 to Docket #239, which is the motion to compromise and settle 9 with Cattlemen's as well.

10 THE COURT: I'll show that's granted. And then 11 there is the motion to compromise and settle, #18.

12 MS. LALLY: Yes, Your Honor. We did have the 13 limited objection filed by Mr. Knauer as Trustee for Eastern 14 Livestock, which we've just been through, which was at first 15 joined by Fifth Third Bank as well. We feel that since the 16 matters have been resolved, there are now no objections to our 17 motion to compromise with Cattlemen's.

18 Of a particular note, though, I would like to point 19 out that we do believe that the settlement is in the best 20 interest of the estate and its creditors in that Eastern 21 Livestock had a liability of about $10,697 prior to the 22 settlement and compromise. And because of the settlement and 23 compromise, it will have $47,000 in the estate.

24 THE COURT: All right, I'll show that that motion 25 is granted.

1 MALE SPEAKER: And, Your Honor --

2 THE COURT: And I understand --

3 MALE SPEAKER: -- it's been our understanding it's 4 going to be conditional upon our closing --

5 THE COURT: Everybody understands that it's a 6 condition -- a condition on the closing.

7 MS. LALLY: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MS. HALL: And that would move us into the new 10 bankruptcy case, related case, IN RE: Okie Farms, for items 19 11 and 20.

12 THE COURT: Right. And I'll grant the motion for 13 joint administration, and I'll grant the motion to approve the 14 sale agreement.

15 MS. HALL: After that, Your Honor, the other items 16 on the agenda, which the exception of the adversary 17 proceedings, which are all set for status conference only, and 18 Item #6, the application of DSI for compensation, are 19 contested matters.

20 THE COURT: I think people must have forgotten to 21 object to that one.

22 (Chuckling)

23 MS. HALL: I think that someone representing DSI is 24 on the phone.

25 THE COURT: Does anyone want to be heard on the DSI

1 application for compensation?

2 (No response)

3 THE COURT: I'll show that that motion is granted.

4 That's Item #6.

5 MR. CARR: Terry, we have one settlement

6 (unclear).

7 MS. HALL: On the adversary proceeding?

8 MR. CARR: No, it's 183.

9 MS. HALL: I guess at this point, Your Honor, it's 10 -- you may take, retake control --

11 THE COURT: All right.

12 MS. HALL: -- related to the -- you know, the 13 adversary proceeding status conferences, or the contested 14 matters. Mr. Carr does tell me that there is--

15 (This is Sandy's part from this point on).HERE 10:32:39

16 THE COURT: All right, well, let's deal with the 17 Peoples Bank matter. I think we've -- I had a telephone 18 conference with the parties on that yesterday, and we're not 19 going to go forward with the evidentiary hearing today, but I 20 want to just deal with some preliminary matters there.

21 The -- I have set for February the 2nd, is that 22 correct? I don't have a --

23 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: Your Honor, I wrote the 1st 24 down but --

25 THE COURT: Well, you're probably right. I'm going

1 by --

2 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: Your case. Whatever you'd 3 like --

4 THE COURT: -- memory. Let's see. Okay, February
5 1st. The motion for relief from stay, the objection thereto, 6 the trial on the adversary, and you're all going to get me a 7 scheduling order on the -- on an expedited discovery, or 8 whatever it is that you need, is that correct?

9 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: Yes, Your Honor. I can stay 10 and work with Mr. Toner immediately after this hearing.

11 MR. TONER: Will do.

12 THE COURT: Okay. And then so -- well, I know we've 13 got the motion in limine with the -- with respect to the 14 proposed testimony of Patrick O'Malley. But is there anything 15 else that we need to deal with today?

16 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: No, Your Honor, just the 17 motion in limine.

18 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: Just the motion.

19 THE COURT: Okay, do you all want to argue in 20 addition? I've read what you've filed and looked at the 21 cases. Do you want to supplement that in any way?

22 MR. RALUY: Your Honor, I'm a lawyer so I'm always 23 willing to talk. If the Court thinks it would be helpful, I'd 24 be more than happy to argue it, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. I don't think it would be

1 too helpful.

2 I'm going to deny the motion in limine. I think 3 that the motion -- I think the objection and the points that 4 you raise go primarily to the weight that the Court will give.
5 I understand the expert's relationship with the Trustee, but I 6 don't think it's a disinterestedness standard when we're not 7 talking about employment. I think he's entitled to give his 8 opinion. So I'm going to deny the motion.

9 You all -- the only other thing I'll add is, since 10 we did put this on such a tight schedule, if you need me to 11 resolve any minor disputes or bumps in the road in the next 45
12 days or so before we try it, just call Kristen and we'll set 13 up a very prompt phone conference to do that.

14 MR. TONER: The only thing I might anticipate would 15 be third-party discovery, and we'll make that known to those 16 parties, that we can move swiftly with your help.

17 THE COURT: Yeah. I don't know if -- yeah, you 18 might run into some problem. We have a harder time 19 controlling third parties than we do actual parties, so 20 hopefully that's not going to delay matters. Because I'm 21 sensitive to the issue that you raised yesterday, that the 22 bank wants to get this resolved, and I'd love to get anything 23 resolved in this case, so I'm all for it. We'll go in 24 February.

25 MR. TONER: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Okay. All right, well --

2 MS. HALL: We do have one other item on Item #1 3 under continued matters that we've reached agreement on.

4 THE COURT: All right, what's that?

5 MR. CARR: Your Honor, in Roman II, paragraph 6 (1)(a)(3) is -- well, let's see --

7 THE COURT: Fifth Third's objection to --

8 MR. CARR: I'm sorry, it's the --

9 MS. HALL: (unclear)

10 MR. CARR: No, it's not -- it's the Brent Kuehny 11 and Kremlin Crumpler Brothers matter --

12 THE COURT: Yeah.

13 MR. CARR: -- which this is one that, the way I 14 understand the basic facts, and Mr. Plourde graphed this out 15 in one of his pleadings, cattle were sold from Mr. Kuehny to 16 Eastern. Eastern in turn sold them to Mr. Hoenberg 17 (phonetic). Mr. Hoenberg sold them on. And Mr. Hoenberg has 18 not paid Eastern.

19 And what he hasn't -- what he's --the 158 what he 20 owes Eastern or --

21 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: 158, Your Honor, is what is 22 owed to Mr. Kuehny. It's approximately what's owed to 23 Eastern.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. CARR: So there's about $158,000 at issue.

1 What we've agreed -- and we just did it in classic 2 fashion in the hallway today as the hearing was starting, so 3 there's some roughness to this that Mr. Plourde and I have to 4 work out -- but what we've agreed is that we'll split that 5 158, but we're talking about the money that we actually 6 received from Mr. Hoenberg, and that money is going to come 7 some place -- 90 for his client and 68 for the estate, in that 8 proportion.

9 We're going to figure out how we're going to get Mr.
10 Hoenberg to pay it, but if we do that and we split that 158 in 11 that proportion, 90 to 68, then all of Mr. Kuehny and the 12 Kremlin and whoever else who is in that transaction will give 13 up any other claim they have in the estate with respect to 14 that.

15 MR. PLOURDE: Right, that's right. Again, it's 16 agreed in principle at this point, Your Honor, but I think it 17 gives us a basis to go forward in trying to resolve the 18 matter.

19 THE COURT: All right, you'll memorialize it in a 20 proposed settlement and it will go out on notice --

21 MR. CARR: Yes, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: -- and give everybody an opportunity to 23 object to that.

24 MR. CARR: Right.

25 THE COURT: Okay. And was that Roman numeral little

1 iii?

2 MR. CARR: I guess it's -- Mr. Plourde represents 3 all the people in (1)(a); he represents Stockman, Oklahoma
4 Livestock Market, and Brent Kuehny and the Crumpler Brothers.

5 So I guess we'll be taking care of Brent Kuehny and 6 the Crumpler Brothers or -- ?

7 MR. PLOURDE: No, it doesn't cover Crumpler
8 Brothers.

9 MR. CARR: Okay, just Brent Kuehny --

10 MR. PLOURDE: It does -- it does solve the Kremlin 11 issue, Judge. We've divided this up into two issues: The 12 Kremlin issue, which involves Kuehny, his bank Kremlin, Mr.
13 Hoenberg.

14 THE COURT: All right, so I think that is little 15 iii.

16 MR. CARR: Yes.

17 MR. LeBAS: Your Honor, David LeBas for J&F 18 Oklahoma. We entered an appearance in this case because the 19 cattle actually went ultimately to JF Oklahoma. JF Oklahoma 20 paid money to Mr. Hoenberg, and Mr. Hoenberg is the source of 21 those funds. He's been holding those in sort of a private 22 escrow account since last November.

23 Our position is that if there are claims that come 24 out of this against JF, that those need to be decided under 25 some other procedure, a contested matter or adversary

1 proceeding, which at this point has not been asserted or 2 filed.

3 THE COURT: Well, raise an objection to the proposed 4 settlement.

5 MR. LeBAS: I don't think we're going to object to 6 that. That was -- I just wanted to tell the Court that was 7 the reason --

8 MR. PLOURDE: Your Honor, we agree with his position 9 on this basis.

10 THE COURT: Well, then maybe I misunderstood what 11 you said. Say that again.

12 MR. LeBAS: We're not objecting to it. We filed a 13 pleading in the case in order to make sure that if there are 14 claims that are asserted against JF Oklahoma, that they be 15 asserted in a separate proceeding, adversary or --

16 THE COURT: All right, I see what you're saying, 17 okay.

18 MR. CARR: We can roll that into the settlement, 19 Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: All right.

21 MS. HALL: We'll also identify the pleadings that 22 are involved in that particular settlement because I think 23 there's more than just little iii.

24 THE COURT: All right. Yes?

25 MR. PLOURDE: I'm just waiting for the next one,

1 Judge.

2 THE COURT: Oh, okay. Well, --

3 MR. PLOURDE: I didn't want to go back and sit down 4 and then --

5 THE COURT: What --

6 MS. HALL: The next one, there is another matter in 7 (1)(a), and that's Stockman Oklahoma, and that resolved -- 8 that is the constructive trust issue that's been talked about.
9 And it's been fully briefed --

10 THE COURT: All right, let's talk about the 11 constructive trust issue, and then let's talk about how that 12 ties into other issues. I've --

13 You know, I've talked to the parties here on 14 numerous occasions about how we're going to manage this case 15 and keep it from getting out of control, and obviously we 16 failed in that respect.

17 You know, I think maybe I have ten summary judgment
18 motions now, and then we've got this motion of the Trustee 19 that a lot of people don't even think ought to be a motion; 20 and then we've got Mr. Bowles muddying the water with his 21 forward contracts arguments and -- and you know, so I have -- 22 and then we've got everybody saying that the Trustee's in bed
23 with the bank. Although I think most people would get in bed 24 for four million dollars, maybe, I don't think there's any 25 proof that the Trustee has at this point. Although I'm not

1 ruling on that today.

2 There's a lot of issue -- overriding issues in this 3 case. And you know, I've got two and a half law clerks and me 4 trying to keep up with you all, and that's almost impossible 5 at this point, but we're going to start deciding some issues, 6 and, you know, I'm close on some of these questions; but then 7 that raises other issues.

8 For example -- and this is out of context -- but how 9 many different appeals do we really want out of this case?
10 For example, you know, Mr. Bowles, the more I think about your 11 issue, the more I'm convinced that no matter which way I rule, 12 somebody's going to appeal that, and what's going to be the 13 impact of that pending appeal on the other matters in the 14 adversaries that are pending? Because I'm sure if you 15 prevail, as everyone has warned me before, that if you 16 prevail, you're going to come prancing into the adversary 17 saying this is issue preclusion as to certain -- certain 18 matters of law which have already been determined, and -- but 19 those issues will actually be on appeal. I mean, I'm certain 20 the bank and probably Trustee and I don't know who else is 21 going to appeal if you prevail.

22 And I'm certain -- I'm not certain but I would 23 imagine you're going to appeal if you don't prevail. I mean, 24 everybody -- and let me just, you know, make this clear. I 25 don't care who appeals in this case. I think a lot of these

1 questions ultimately are probably going to be answered by a
2 higher court. But I want to try to put this case in a posture 3 where we can keep moving on. There's a lot of things to be 4 done if we're going to -- if we're going to stay in this 5 Court.

6 And that's another overriding question that's 7 started coming to my mind. And if the Trustee reaches the 8 conclusion -- and I understand the Trustee is fighting back 9 against the charges that the Trustee has already conceded 10 every -- that the bank gets everything. And I'd like a little 11 status on that today. There's someone here from Hoover Hull, 12 right? Yes.

13 MR. WHITE?: Yes, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Yeah, we'll talk about that.

15 But if the Trustee finally does come to that 16 conclusion, then -- and if the constructive trust arguments
17 don't prevail, then why are we here? I mean, the only thing 18 we're doing at that point is keeping the bank from litigating 19 in Oklahoma and Texas and Wisconsin and wherever else the bank
20 might have to go. Do we exist just as a forum of convenience 21 for the bank to marshal the assets in this case?

22 I mean, if that's right, and I know that one of the 23 arguments that the bank likes to make against the constructive 24 trust -- and this is kind of an ironic argument that the bank 25 likes to make, I think, is that it -- and I've read a lot of

1 cases about constructive trusts, and I could probably argue
2 both sides of this question to you. But, that it disrupts --
3 and other Courts have said it -- disrupts the distributive
4 scheme of the Bankruptcy Court.

5 Well, the distributive scheme of the Bankruptcy 6 Court, as far as the bank's concerned, is everything goes to 7 the bank. I mean, there's not going to be -- if the bank is 8 right, there's nothing here for unsecured creditors. The only 9 thing we're talking about is carving out administrative 10 expenses. And I'm going to allow you to speak.

11 The only thing we're talking about is we're carving 12 out administrative expenses to gather together the flock. Or 13 I guess it's the herd in this case.

14 So, you know, that's an overriding concern that I 15 have.

16 To get a little more specific, you know, I'm ready 17 -- or I'll be ready in a few weeks, probably because of the 18 holidays it's going to take a little bit longer, to issue a 19 decision as to whether I think the forward -- what I think 20 about the forward contract issue, what I think about the 21 constructive trust issue.

22 But the question that I have is where should I do 23 that? I mean, I know -- and how should I do that, and not 24 just put the brakes on this case why those issues go up.
25 Because I suppose that whoever loses is going to have to 1 protect their arguments by appeal.

2 Mr. Toner, you look like you want to take the first 3 shot at this.

4 MR. TONER: Well, as usual, thank you, Your Honor.
5 Kevin Toner for the Trustee.

6 We agree with what you said. We've been through 7 this a lot this summer, trying to think exactly this through.
8 And, many of us in this room feel your frustration in trying 9 to bring some order to this and present things in an order 10 that makes a difference.

11 There's very little agreement about that order, and 12 I think Your Honor came to the correct conclusion that to be 13 fair to the litigants, and to make sure folks got notice and 14 an opportunity and a proper scale of an order that might be on 15 an appeal, we take them one at a time as they were fully 16 briefed and ready for decision. And in doing that sort of 17 approach, I think we encouraged results like we saw here this 18 morning with the settlement of just of these issues out in the 19 hallway.

20 If we go forward with these things when they're 21 ready, on the proper scope --

22 THE COURT: No, but let me interrupt you just 23 briefly.

24 I don't know which settlement you're referring to, 25 but you're referring to the sale of -- is that what you're

1 referring to?

2 MR. TONER: I was referring to the bank Kremlin 3 issues that overlap with many of the others in the --

4 THE COURT: Well, those aren't fully settled because 5 the bank's going to object to your settlement, right?

6 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: I don't know. I haven't 7 heard the settlement.

8 THE COURT: Right.

9 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: I may well not object.

10 THE COURT: Right. I mean they might. I understand 11 it's not fully settled at this point.

12 But I get your point, and I agree that some things - 13 - but let's get specific here, all right.

14 If we -- and you know, some of them point the finger 15 at the Trustee for -- because of this motion that you filed.
16 And I think one of the bank's arguments early on in one of its 17 briefs that I found some credence with is by doing that, 18 you've in effect -- and not doing this in the context of an 19 adversary, and that is determining the validity of these 20 claims, of the parties that have constructive trusts. You may 21 have shifted the burden of proof in some way.

22 Or you -- but and it really is, isn't it really just 23 a claims objection?

24 MR. TONER: I thought the way we presented it in the 25 Friona case, and I think that's where the objections have been

1 filed, was to tee up an issue of law as to whether federal law 2 speaks to the constructive trust issue.

3 THE COURT: All right. Well, that's where I -- on 4 the constructive trust issue, don't you think that the Friona
5 adversary is the best vehicle to issue some sort of an order 6 determining the validity of the constructive trust? You do.

7 MR. TONER: I do.

8 THE COURT: Do other parties agree or disagree with 9 that?

10 MR. LaTOUR: Your Honor, may I jump in?

11 THE COURT: You may. Please state your name for the 12 record.

13 MR. LaTOUR: Randall LaTour from Vorys/Sater
14 representing Fifth Third.

15 I'd like to address several points so I'm going to 16 backtrack a little bit. But I'd like to answer the first 17 question you had, or the last question you just asked.

18 There was an attempt made early on to coordinate 19 issues that cut across several different contested matters 20 under Rule 7042. That was rejected by people that felt that 21 they -- well, I don't -- I won't ascribe a motive to them, but 22 they're rejected.

23 And now we find ourselves in this situation. Does 24 it make sense on a constructive trust issue that is going to 25 touch so many claims to deal with it once across the board?

1 Yeah, I think so. That's what I said three months ago, and I 2 still believe that.

3 Now, I'd like to address the Court's concern --

4 THE COURT: Well, before you move off that.

5 MR. LaTOUR: Yeah.

6 THE COURT: Because I want to get a framework today, 7 I want to leave here with a framework for dealing with the 8 constructive trust issue.

9 MR. LaTOUR: Well, the framework is simple, Your 10 Honor. If you don't want to hear arguments about it, you want 11 to rely on the briefing, then you consider all the briefing
12 that has been filed in the Friona case, in the Kremlin matter, 13 and in any other contested matter that involves constructive 14 trust. You consider all those pleadings and you issue an 15 order that's effective as to that contested matter or this 16 adversary proceeding and address this across the board.

17 If you want to hear argument, then I would suggest 18 to the Court that a notice goes out that says, "On such and 19 such omnibus date I will hear argument," and everybody can 20 come in and argue.

21 THE COURT: Well, no, I know how to hear argument.
22 That's not my concern.

23 My concern is -- well, I mean, I've thought just, 24 you know, exactly what you said, and that is come up with one 25 opinion. And then in two or three other instances, you know,

1 issue the same order. Now, it's not as easy as it might 2 sound, because if you find that constructive trusts might be 3 valid, then I think they're a fact, they're fact-sensitive.

4 MR. LaTOUR: Well, Your Honor, that's exactly --

5 THE COURT: It's only if you issue an order that 6 says, "We're not going to recognize constructive trusts in 7 bankruptcy," or something that's broad along those lines, that 8 you can issue the same order in every case.

9 MR. LaTOUR: That's correct, Your Honor. If you 10 determine that the constructive trust issue requires an 11 examination of fact --

12 THE COURT: Right.

13 MR. LaTOUR: -- you will have to look at each 14 transaction separately, and everybody is going to have their 15 opportunity to develop their evidence and make their argument 16 and you'll have to deal with those seriatim.

17 If you decide that it's a question of law that cuts 18 across the board, then under Rule 7042 you can simply say, "I 19 declare that I'm consolidating this issue," and --

20 THE COURT: Right.

21 MR. LaTOUR: -- and put out a single order.

22 THE COURT: All right. Move on to another issue.
23 I'm sure you don't think that the Trustee is administering the 24 case solely for the benefit of the bank.

25 MR. LaTOUR: Well, Your Honor, I have good reason to

1 believe that, and that's because the Trustee and I have been 2 in negotiations for quite a long time, and the Trustee has 3 exacted from the bank an agreement in principle to allow the 4 concession of millions of dollars to be available for 5 distribution to allow the claims for unsecured creditors in 6 this case.

7 Now, like everything in this case, there are a lot 8 of details attendant to that. The Trustee has been in the 9 process of -- at least my understanding is, I haven't been at 10 the meetings, but my understanding is, is that he's talking to 11 creditors and explaining what that structure is.

12 My own belief is the best explanation would be to 13 file a plan because people are then going to worry the 14 language. But the plan does contemplate two funds, one of 15 which is essentially recoveries under preferences, and another 16 fund which is essentially the bank's collateral with a carve-17 out for unsecured creditors that have specified conditions, 18 the primary one of which is that they grant third-party 19 releases.

20 This case has absolutely not been administered for 21 the benefit of the bank. The bank, despite having an order 22 that says that it's supposed to get adequate protection 23 payments, has not received a single payment of any amount at 24 all. The bank's collateral to the tune of some four million 25 dollars has been expended.

1 THE COURT: So what's going to happen on that now?
2 I mean, that's one thing that worries me about this case also.

3 MR. LaTOUR: Well, again --

4 THE COURT: No, wait a minute, let me finish my 5 question.

6 MR. LaTOUR: I'm sorry, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Yeah, I understand, the bank's financing 8 the case. What -- what's to say that they, the bank in six 9 months decides not to finance the case? Then what happens?

10 MR. CARR: May I speak to that, Your Honor?

11 THE COURT: Yes.

12 MR. CARR: I think if that's the case, then this is 13 going to get converted. Or dismissed.

14 THE COURT: Well, I was going to say, I'd hate to 15 dump this on -- well, how can we convert it? It's already a 16 7.

17 MR. CARR: No, it's an 11, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Oh, it's an 11.

19 MR. CARR: Which is what -- let me go back to --

20 THE COURT: I keep thinking of it as a 7 because 21 it's like a 7.

22 MR. CARR: Well, let me go back to what -- to what 23 Mr. LaTour was talking about, because I don't think you heard 24 the magic words yet.

25 THE COURT: I heard the magic words.

1 MR. CARR: Well, but what you didn't hear is 20 per 2 cent. And what we've been talking about is carving out for 3 unsecured creditors 20 per cent of the bank's collateral, the 4 net collateral. That's the plan. And the whole point is --

5 THE COURT: All right, let me ask you a question.
6 That makes me -- I mean, everybody likes to hear that. That 7 changes things a little bit in my mind, but I'm not to a point 8 of making a decision about that sort of thing anyway, but let 9 me ask you this.

10 What is the bank's position, I mean the Trustee's 11 position as to the bank's claim as we stand here today?

12 MR. CARR: Can I speak to that?

13 THE COURT: Yes.

14 MR. CARR: Now this is going to take a little bit of 15 time, because now we're going to start getting into. you know, 16 some of the main event here.

17 THE COURT: And I'm sorry -- you can sit in the 18 witness stand if you want to.

19 MR. CARR: If I can, Your Honor, let me talk for a 20 few minutes about what we've done and where we are.

21 And of course, the Court recognizes that we all fell 22 in here a year ago. Nobody -- we didn't choose to be in 23 Chapter 11 and it was an involuntary, Trustee was appointed.
24 And obviously we had a mess. We had -- all of the management 25 had resigned, waiting to be indicted. We had books and 1 records that had been, in some cases we believe pilfered.

2 And what we decided to do -- and when I say "we",
3 I'm going to talk about the Trustee and the Trustee's 4 professionals, is try to start amassing as much of an estate 5 as we could, and really going after those things that we 6 thought if we don't go after these, they're going to get away 7 from us.

8 And so the theory has been let's build a pot and 9 figure out what kind of pot we have before we start talking 10 about how we're going to divvy up this pot. And, you know, it 11 was quite possible, we weren't going to have much of a pot.

12 The fact is, as we sit here today, assuming the Okie 13 case closes, and assuming a couple other things happen that we 14 think are going to happen pretty quickly, we're going to have 15 recovered about 17 and a half million dollars. Now that's 16 before this massive litigation that we've been talking about 17 gets resolved.

18 You know, we have a claim against Superior of 19 somewhere 12 to 15 million dollars. We have a number of other 20 claims. We have preference claims. We took -- and somebody's 21 going to have to help me with this number because I have too 22 many floating around my brain, but when we started looking at 23 this initially, I think that there were several hundred 24 million dollars I think of checks written in the 90 days 25 before the bankruptcy.

1 And as opposed to just sending out preference
2 demands to all those people, we've tried to do a very careful 3 analysis to make sure we weren't just going to start suing 4 people who have already been harmed, if they had legitimate 5 defenses. And we think after going through that analysis, we 6 may have preference claims in the 20 million dollar range.

7 So, there is substantial -- there is substantial 8 money that's coming in here.

9 We were faced with the commercial fact, we couldn't 10 change this fact, that for a number of years the bank had a 11 lien on virtually all the assets of the estate, and we 12 couldn't offer up any particular adequate protection for the 13 use of the bank's cash collateral because we were just going 14 to eat it up trying to recover money and bring it in.

15 And so we had to have a financing order. We had to 16 come up with a vehicle that we could have some fuel to go 17 forward with this recovery effort.

18 And what we've been trying to get to is a place then 19 where we had a handle on what this pot was going to be like, 20 and effectively we're going to reach a fork in the road where 21 we're going to do one of two things, or somebody's going to do 22 one of two things. We're either going to have an agreed deal 23 about dividing this up, and that's the -- that's the Chapter 24 11 plan that we've been talking about. And I know all these 25 creditors are just chomping at the bit. They want to see what

1 this is. Well, it doesn't exist yet. And they keep -- they 2 keep yelling at me for not showing them something that doesn't 3 exist. We've been going back and forth with the bank trying 4 to find a term sheet that we can show people.

5 But essentially the deal involves, if we put that 6 deal together, giving creditors the opportunity to get 20 per 7 cent of the bank's collateral. And then the bank and 8 unsecured creditors are going to share pro rata to the extent 9 that they had an unsecured claim, a deficiency, so it's an 10 unsecured creditor, its collateral doesn't cover it, and the 11 unsecured creditors, they're going to share in the unsecured 12 creditor pot which is the preferences and several other 13 things, including one of the wild cards here -- I know you 14 heard some about this, but there's about 4.7 million dollars 15 that was in an account that got seized by the United States 16 Attorney down in Kentucky, and that's -- we hope is going to 17 be part of the unsecured money that gets distributed out here.

18 We think -- and part of the problem is timing.
19 Because if we would have filed this kind of plan and this kind 20 of disclosure statement two or three months ago, it would have 21 been incredibly vague and very difficult for people to decide 22 what they want to do because we couldn't get a handle on what 23 the pot was going to be.

24 It's now starting to come into focus. And it's 25 going to be in a place at some point here in the near future

1 where we think people can make an intelligent decision whether 2 they take that fork in the road, which is to release their 3 claims against the bank and share in the bank's collateral, 4 and then share pro rata in the non-bank collateral, they're 5 going to share 20 percent of the bank's collateral and share
6 pro rata the non -- or go after the bank. Go after the bank 7 for equitable subordination or whatever else people think we 8 can do.

9 But the problem with that is, somebody's going to 10 have to figure out, you know, they're going to have to weigh 11 those things.

12 Now the bank has not been released from anything.
13 There have not been any give up of claims against the bank.
14 The bank has not been distributed a penny. Nothing we've done 15 has prejudiced either one of those forks. And those are still 16 available to us.

17 And of course, one thing that's available to 18 everybody is anybody who wants to sue the bank, can. And 19 people have.

20 And the problem, one of the problem that the Trustee
21 sees as it looks at this situation, is that the Trustee's 22 ability to sue the bank is much different than the ability of 23 individual creditors to sue the bank.

24 We have a series of decisions now that have come out 25 of the Madoff bankruptcies, where the Trustee has gone after

1 banks involved in the Madoff Ponzi scheme, and the Trustee is 2 consistently losing, because the Trustee has to stand in the 3 shoes of Madoff.

4 Our Trustee has to stand in the shoes of Eastern 5 Livestock. There are pari delicto problems, there are 6 standing problems. Those problems don't exist with respect to 7 individual creditors. They're going to all have to consider 8 their own individual claims against the bank and compare those 9 to what we think we're going to be able to offer them.

10 Now if they decide not to give up their claims 11 against the bank and go after the bank, they'll still get what 12 they're going to get as an unsecured creditor. They're not 13 going to give that up. But that's --

14 THE COURT: But they're not going to get the 20 per 15 cent.

16 MR. CARR: They're not going to get the 20 per cent 17 because that's -- unless somebody, unless somebody is able to 18 step up here and come up with a valid theory to equitably 19 subordinate the bank's liens.

20 And we're looking at it. We're looking at that.
21 We're looking at preference claims. But we've done a lot of 22 legal research, and this isn't an easy task and --

23 THE COURT: All right, so as far -- is it fair to 24 say then that as far as the Trustee is concerned, as far as 25 the security interest -- and maybe the attorney from Hoover

1 Hull should be heard on this also, but as far as the security 2 interest in the assets of the estate, that the bank was 3 properly perfected and the -- they are a secured creditor as 4 to basically all tangible and intangible assets of the estate.

5 MR. CARR: That's what -- that's what was in the 6 financing order, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Right.

8 MR. CARR: Subject to all claims and defenses, and 9 that includes the ability to seek -- to equitably subordinate 10 the lien.

11 THE COURT: I'm not talking about equitable 12 subordination at this point.

13 MR. CARR: That's right. But that finding was made 14 by the Court in connection with the financing order.

15 THE COURT: All right. And does --

16 MR. WHITE: Sean White, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Why don't you step forward so we make 18 sure we get you on the record.

19 MR. WHITE: Sean White, Your Honor, on behalf of the 20 Trustee.

21 I agree with Mr. Carr, that was -- what the Court
22 questioned, the Court just asked was answered in the financing 23 order as to the bank's security interest.

24 And I would echo just what Mr. Carr said, that the 25 Trustee, as he steps into the shoes of the debtor, has unique

1 problems which Mr. Carr identified in terms of --

2 THE COURT: I understand those problems.

3 MR. WHITE: Okay. We have served a subpoena on 4 Fifth Third. Fifth Third has responded -- sorry, produced 5 about seven -- I want to say approximately 9,000 pages of 6 documents. We're in the process of reviewing those. We don't 7 have all the documents. We understand they are forthcoming.
8 And we're in the process of reviewing those to advise the 9 Trustee whether there's any other claims that we might be able 10 to bring against the bank.

11 THE COURT: All right. And who else wants to be 12 heard? And this kind of blends into the fee apps also so --

13 MR. CARR: Could I speak --

14 THE COURT: No, we'll let somebody else speak for a 15 moment.

16 MR. CARR: All right.

17 MR. DONNELLON: Your Honor, Dan Donnellon for First 18 Bank and Trust.

19 I think Your Honor framed this issue well, that we 20 need to look at the elephant in the room. The constructive 21 trust issues, all of those, the related pleadings that have 22 been filed, all involve or get back to at heart is Eastern 23 Livestock's assets as a whole properly valid priority first 24 lien of Fifth Third Bank. No matter how you slice those 25 issues.

1 We were here over a year ago, or about a year ago, 2 when the issue came up we were appointing the Trustee and we 3 were going to look at this issue. At that time, and this is 4 all in the objections -- we have very fine honorable lawyers 5 in the room.

6 But it was, at least my client's understanding that 7 we were going to retain Hoover Hull to answer that question, 8 is there an elephant in the room or not? Because if Fifth 9 Third is white as Caesar's ghost, then the estate should be 10 administered for the benefit of Fifth Third or liquidated.

11 THE COURT: I thought it was Caesar's wife.

12 MR. DONNELLON: Caesar's wife, sorry.

13 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: He killed her, that's right.

14 MR. DONNELLON: That's right.

15 But the point being, when that financing order went 16 on, and in the Trustee's blog he said in February, or we have 17 to answer this question, why am I not suing the bank, what are 18 these questions, we're going to answer those by March 11th, 19 we came into that hearing. There were questions made to give 20 Fifth Third super priority over everything. Several of us
21 objected. We went into the conference room, and we came up 22 with an order that said, "You're going to allow Fifth Third's 23 claim and we're going to reserve everything and we're going to 24 look into that."

25 And it was just a few weeks later, unbeknownst to

1 all the other creditors, that there was no investigation 2 whatsoever ongoing at that time. That it was truncated on 3 some cost benefit analysis.

4 At that time, I was relying on the fact that we're 5 going to get into all these issues and someone's going to 6 discover these issues to determine whether the Trustee should 7 be administering this case for Fifth Third or not.

8 At the same time I was involved in the State Court
9 proceeding that Fifth Third initiated that Judge Winkler 10 reminded me last week, if you're going to set it back, he's 11 happy to have it.

12 At that time the State Court proceeding, in July I 13 took one partial deposition and asked --

14 UNIDENTIFIED ATTORNEY: Your Honor --

15 THE COURT: Wait a minute. Let him finish. We're 16 going to take turns.

17 MR. DONNELLON: -- and sought some discovery, some 18 document discovery, so at least I could do my own discovery 19 investigation. That was -- I got a request for an extension.
20 I got a blanket relevance objection, and then on my motion to 21 compel, that case was stayed. I was told go to the Bankruptcy
22 Court.

23 At that point I thought, well, at least an 24 investigation is ongoing. I will be able to discover what 25 happened here, and nothing has happened.

1 All I'm saying is if we want to put this case on the 2 proper order, we need to first find out exactly what happened, 3 is there an elephant in the room, should Fifth Third be 4 equitably subordinated --

5 THE COURT: When does Hoover Hull, Hoover Hull said
6 that their investigation of this issue will be completed?
7 Give me a time frame.

8 MR. WHITE: Your Honor, I would say we would try and 9 complete the investigation within the next 120 days.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Now, you can speak. Wait a 11 minute, Mr. Levin, I'm going to let him go next. Okay.

12 MR. LaTOUR: Your Honor, this is really taking a 13 turn that's completely inappropriate.

14 Fifth Third is not the subject of an adversary 15 proceeding or a contested matter here today, but Fifth Third 16 is being flayed (filleted) alive by the imagination of some 17 people in the absence of any number of corroborating facts or 18 witnesses or testimony. That is completely inappropriate.

19 Collateral attack, what happened in the Court, in 20 the State Court in Cincinnati, is completely inappropriate.

21 And while we're on the subject, let's talk about 22 First Bank's participation on this issue. And --

23 THE COURT: I don't really want to go into this.
24 You're not being flayed (filleted). I mean, the only person 25 that can flay (fillet) you is me and I'm not going to flay

1 (fillet) you.

2 So the only reason that I'm taking -- I'm letting 3 this argument go on these issues is because it's been raised 4 in the objections to the fee apps.

5 MR. LaTOUR: Well, let me help on that issue then,
6 Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: All right.

8 MR. LaTOUR: Number one, the Trustee has not 9 released the bank from anything. The bank is being governed 10 by the terms of the financing order which has language that 11 everybody agreed to that reserved their rights. All their 12 rights are intact.

13 Number two, no money has been distributed to the 14 bank.

15 Number three, money coming into the estate cannot be 16 distributed to the bank without prior notice of a hearing
17 pursuant to the finance order. So there's no risk that money 18 gets loaded in the trucks and moved off to the bank at the end 19 of the day.

20 Number four, all of the evidence that is being 21 turned over to Hoover Hull by agreement with the bank is going 22 to be placed on the internet access under the discovery 23 protocol. So if people want to wade through 9,000 pages of 24 documents, they can.

25 So there isn't a big secret here, and there's no

1 elephant in the room other than the lack of standing of First 2 Bank. There is no dive being taken on the behalf of the bank.

3 THE COURT: All right.

4 MR. LaTOUR: If those kinds of accusations are 5 going to be made, they should be made formally, we should have 6 a trial on it, and I should be allowed the opportunity to 7 present evidence and a defense.

8 THE COURT: All right, I understand your position.

9 MR. ROGERS: Your Honor --

10 THE COURT: And I think -- all right, you're going 11 to speak?

12 MR. ROGERS: If I can yeah, just touch on a couple 13 of the points that have been raised on behalf of Superior.
14 And maybe a few points that the Court might not be aware of.

15 Certainly the concern maybe of the objecting 16 parties, and I don't think any of us are filleting Fifth 17 Third, we're just questioning whether the job that was to be 18 done by Hoover Hull was done, and whether it's being done.

19 As their application shows, but has been sort of de-20 emphasized in Hoover Hull's response, for roughly six months 21 Hoover Hull wasn't doing anything to investigate Fifth Third, 22 whether inequitable subordination, lawsuits, anything else.

23 It essentially stopped its investigation in April --

24 THE COURT: I saw that --

25 MR. ROGERS: -- effectively in March really --

1 THE COURT: -- objections -- yeah.

2 MR. ROGERS: -- and only recently resumed, for what 3 reason we're not sure.

4 It's our belief that it was stopped because the 5 Trustee asked them to stop, because it was not worth the 6 benefit to the estate in the Trustee's view. Whether that's 7 the case or not, certainly part of the harm to the estate is, 8 during that six months, we've got the Trustee conferring with 9 the bank, and nobody else, about how to pursue litigation in 10 the case, strategies in the case, discussing a plan of 11 reorganization which Mr. LaTour can explain to us, because 12 he's familiar with it --

13 THE COURT: Well --

14 MR. ROGERS: -- that we have learned about only 15 recently.

16 THE COURT: Well, but they're the ones that are 17 going to have to fund it. I mean, they're obviously going to 18 have to come to the first agreement before it can go forward.

19 Let me ask you this: I know you do a lot of work, 20 attorney work for Trustees. Isn't the point that Mr. Carr 21 raised correct, that the -- that it might be more difficult 22 for the estate to sue the bank than it would be for another 23 party to sue the bank because the estate stands in the shoes 24 of the debtor?

25 MR. ROGERS: I think, Your Honor, that's probably

1 true, so far as a lawsuit is concerned. Probably not true so 2 far as an equitable subordination claim is concerned.

3 But the difficulty is, nobody's been looking into 4 equitable subordination claim. And certainly I understand --

5 THE COURT: Well, they are --

6 MR. ROGERS: Excuse me.

7 THE COURT: They are now, I gather. I mean, isn't 8 that what Hoover Hull is looking into?

9 MR. CARR: Yes, Your Honor, could I speak?

10 THE COURT: No, not yet.

11 MR. ROGERS: Well, I'm really not finished yet.

12 THE COURT: Mr. Rogers has got the floor.

13 MR. ROGERS: I have to remember where I was.

14 Certainly we understand that, yes, the Trustee's got to talk 15 to the bank; they're crucial to any kind of plan of 16 reorganization.

17 On the other hand, it's certainly important when the 18 Trustee does that, that he have some understanding of whether 19 he's got claims against the bank, whether they're claims for 20 equitable subordination, what the facts are that 9,000 21 documents Mr. White has referred to are documents he just 22 received. He could have received them back in April.

23 THE COURT: I've heard that point. I'm aware of 24 that.

25 MR. ROGERS: So, and meanwhile, of course the

1 counsel is asking to be paid by the estate for these 2 conferences that have taken place, during which time he didn't 3 have any opinion on the estate's causes of actions.

4 So how is that -- then of course a bigger point is,
5 is regular counsel can't take any action adverse to Fifth
6 Third, that's why Hoover Hull was brought in, the Trustee's 7 own firm represents Fifth Third. So we have, you know, 8 counsel who has a conflict, a Trustee who has a conflict --

9 THE COURT: Superior has a conflict.

10 MR. ROGERS: Correct, Your Honor, and that's why 11 there are two of us.

12 THE COURT: I understand. Fifth Third has got a lot 13 of tentacles out there, don't they?

14 MR. ROGERS: And, you know, basically here, yes, 15 there is a conflict. We understood Hoover Hull was going to 16 solve that. But if Hoover Hull -- when Hoover Hull stops 17 working --

18 THE COURT: Okay, but are you happy now that they 19 started up again, does that fall --

20 MR. ROGERS: No, at least I can only speak for us.
21 But the question is, if they felt it was appropriate for them 22 to stop --

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 MR. ROGERS: -- in April because the Trustee didn't 25 think it was worth it, how -- what kind of job are they going

1 to do.

2 THE COURT: All right. Yes? Please come forward
3 and state your name for the record.

4 MS. DelCOTTO: Laura Day DelCotto, Your Honor, and I
5 know you are searching for solutions. And from my client's 6 perspective, all roads have always led to Fifth Third, because 7 my client's issues are the relative weights and merits of my 8 unpaid cattle producers versus the bank. And whether I get 9 into the law, but Article 2, a constructive trust, unless you 10 just say you can never ever ever have one, analyzing a 11 proposed settlement and a plan, I cannot do that in any way 12 until I know facts about Fifth Third.

13 And I don't see how you can rule on anything until 14 we all know facts about Fifth Third. And there's a lot of 15 frustration because we're a year into the case, and we still 16 don't know anymore facts than we knew at the beginning, and 17 the case seems to be moving forward with plans that are 18 already negotiated, and summary judgments about title, and 19 other things that in my mind all go to Fifth Third.

20 So my proposed solution is --

21 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you this. All right, 22 people want to talk about equitable subordination of Fifth 23 Third's claim, and some of the pleadings talk about, you know, 24 Fifth Third is responsible for all these checks bouncing all 25 over the United States and millions of -- tens of millions of 1 dollars in checks.

2 What do you have to show to equitably subordi -- 3 we're not going to try the case today, Mr. LaTour, so don't 4 get nervous. The -- I mean, you'd have to show -- I mean, I
5 haven't seen their security agreement. I'll bet you there's a 6 clause in there at some point if they feel insecure or 7 whatever the clauses always say, they can cut off their line 8 of credit. Or if they're out of trust, or you know -- any -- 9 I'm sure by the time we get to this, if we do, they're going 10 to point to four or five legitimate reasons under the contract 11 that Eastern was not in compliance.

12 I mean, Eastern, hardly anybody in here is going to 13 disagree that Eastern was not doing business properly. And 14 so --

15 MS. DelCOTTO: Who at the bank knew what, when about 16 that very point. Eastern was not doing business properly.

17 THE COURT: All right.

18 MS. DelCOTTO: Apparently DSI has now opined since 19 2008.

20 THE COURT: All right.

21 MS. DelCOTTO: So who at the bank knew what, when 22 and what did they do about it? And those are just facts, and 23 I can't even answer your question about good faith purchaser 24 for value, or unjust enrichment, or equitable subordination 25 until I know what the facts are. When I know the facts, I'm

1 going to stand up here and tell you I lose, they did 2 everything right, I might have a claim against them.

3 So that's all -- I just think the answer is we stop 4 all the papers and motions, and we either talk or we do
5 discovery, and we do depositions and get Fifth Third's 6 documents, and then we come back in 120 days or six months or 7 whatever it is, when we know what the facts are, and by then 8 we may have worked out, if we knew what the facts are. We 9 might say 20 per cent's a great deal, we'll vote in favor of 10 your plan. But we can't do anything in my mind until we know 11 the facts.

12 MR. ROGERS: And one thing I might add to that 13 point, Your Honor, is from our point of view, it's not really 14 a coincidence that the Trustee and the bank have filed summary 15 judgment motions dealing with constructive trusts, these 16 threshold issues at this stage when everyone understands 17 discovery hasn't occurred. Nobody knows anything about what 18 Fifth Third knows.

19 Hoover Hull hasn't investigated anything. And the 20 strategy of the case, when to do what, is being determined by 21 who? Fifth Third.

22 MR. CARR: That's not true.

23 MR. ROGERS: That's the debtor's agreement. That's 24 what the time records show, that's what the financing order --

25 MR. CARR: (Unclear)

1 THE COURT: There's already one standing.

2 All right, I'll let you respond, Mr. Carr. And then 3 we're going to go down the agenda and finish off the things 4 that are set for today.

5 MR. CARR: Let me answer, I want to answer your last 6 question about equitable subordination and make a suggestion 7 to you and your law clerk.

8 Take a look at 205 BR 149 which is a Bankruptcy
9 Court decision in Minnesota in 1997. It's the Spring Grove
10 Livestock Exchange case. A case very much like this case, a 11 case where the Trustee sought to equitably subordinate the 12 bank and the factual circumstances very much like this with 13 check kiting, et cetera, and you're going to see.

14 And here's the point about the stuff that Mr. Rogers 15 just started talking about. A year ago when we got employed, 16 we filed two affidavits with the Court and advised the Court 17 exactly about what our firm's position was --

18 THE COURT: Well, I know, and nobody objected to 19 that.

20 MR. CARR: No, but I want -- there's a point on 21 this.

22 The only limitation that was imposed upon us is that 23 we, our firm, couldn't sue them. There's no limitation that 24 we can't advise the Trustee, that we can't analyze these 25 things. Mr. Rogers stands there and says Fifth Third is 1 directing this case? Fifth Third is not directing this case.

2 We are.

3 I have -- I've been practicing law for 36 years. I
4 can't remember back all of them, but I don't believe I've ever
5 billed an hour to Fifth Third Bank. I know Ms. Hall hasn't, I 6 know Mr. Toner hasn't. I don't think that Mr. Knauer has.

7 We told the Court back then, Fifth Third fees for 8 our case, for our firm, represented one-half of one per cent.
9 And the idea that we're going to take a dive or pull a punch 10 on that basis is absolutely offensive, Your Honor, and it just 11 makes no sense at all.

12 And we haven't, and what's going on here is people 13 that we're litigating with want to substitute their judgment 14 for how we approach this for ours --

15 THE COURT: Right.

16 MR. CARR: -- and their perspective for ours.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Let's -- I've let everybody go, 18 and I started it so I take blame for it. But I think it's 19 been helpful. But I'm going to -- I'm going to retake control 20 of the agenda here, and I've -- I think it's been helpful to 21 me in a number of ways, and we're going to -- and here's what 22 I'm going to do.

23 I mean, as to the constructive trust issue, I think 24 the point that Ms. DelCotto made is true, but that doesn't 25 mean -- I mean, if I decide that you can't have constructive

1 trusts, then I issue an order that I'll enter into several 2 adversaries and into the motion -- and if I decide that they 3 can exist and they're fact sensitive, then obviously there'll 4 be a need for additional discovery and they're going to be -- 5 they'll have to be determined on a case -- more of a case-by-6 case basis.

7 So I'll issue an order that does one of those two 8 things. Do you want to -- I know you tried to come up here 9 before and --

10 MR. PLOURDE: If I could, Your Honor --

11 THE COURT: Please --

12 MR. PLOURDE: I understand what you're saying and I 13 think that's the best -- the appropriate way to --

14 THE COURT: Please state your name for the record.

15 MR. PLOURDE: I'm sorry, Ross Plourde here on behalf 16 of Stockman Oklahoma Livestock Marketing, Crumpler Brothers, 17 Inc.

18 Let me, if I could, just kind of put that a little 19 bit into context, because the issue that was teed up for 20 argument today was, as structured by the Court's scheduling
21 order, a very limited issue as to whether Omegas (phonetic) 22 precluded the existence of a constructive trust in bankruptcy 23 absent a pre-petition judgment.

24 THE COURT: [reading]

25 "Whether an average state law can operate to impose

1 a constructive trust over proceeds of the debtor's 2 sale of cattle, absent a pre-petition judicial 3 determination impressing such a constructive trust 4 over debtor's assets."

5 MR. PLOURDE: And we did that, because we understood 6 that there was a pure legal issue. We stipulate to the fact 7 that there was no pre-petition judgment in our case, and that 8 was a pure legal issue that the Trustee said was preclusive.

9 Now the briefing on that -- I tried to address just 10 that issue. The Trustee's briefs and the other briefs that 11 have been filed have gone pretty far afield from that. And 12 the issues that are encompassed in what has been briefed by 13 the opposing parties on that, encompass a lot of issues that I 14 would like to do discovery on.

15 And I think that's the situation with the adversary 16 proceedings. with the motion for summary judgment pending the 17 adversary proceedings. It's something that requires some 18 discovery.

19 THE COURT: Well, I think it --

20 MR. PLOURDE: And so --

21 THE COURT: I may -- we may get to that point. I 22 don't know when I'm going to rule on the constructive trust 23 issue. I've been into it pretty deeply the last ten days or 24 so, and it's an interesting question. I think even the 25 treatises might disagree as to whether constructive trust is a

1 remedy, whether it exists as of the date of any wrongdoing.
2 The Sixth Circuit has a line of cases that go one way. I've 3 seen a couple decisions from Oklahoma, and I've seen a lot of 4 decisions that I didn't think were too helpful, but I've seen 5 some that raise a lot of interesting questions.

6 The interesting thing about the dispositive issue
7 question, and I don't want to be critical, but, you know, 8 whether -- if you answer Yes -- of course if you answer No, 9 that's fairly clear what the answer is. If you answer yes, 10 that doesn't mean there was a constructive trust. All the 11 question asks is can they exist, absent a judicial determina 12 -- a prior judicial determination.

13 Now --

14 MR. PLOURDE: There's a reason for that, because we 15 understood that if you answered Yes, then it was going to 16 require a bunch of discovery.

17 THE COURT: And I still think that's where we are.
18 If I answer Yes, then we're going to see if it's possible that 19 there is one. And where. You know, because there's some that 20 might be -- there are some that are alleged to have occurred 21 in Texas and Oklahoma and various -- various different -- 22 obviously state law differs, which is one of the points that 23 the judges and Courts say that it's a matter of federal law 24 and it shouldn't exist in Bankruptcy Court, frequently rely 25 on.

1 So this -- there's interesting decisions going both 2 ways. And I'll -- I'll get you an answer on that question.

3 So here's what I think we ought to do in terms of 4 moving this case along. I'm going to issue an order on the 5 constructive trust issue. That will probably be issued 6 sometime in January, no later than early February. It depends 7 on how delayed we get by the holidays and et cetera.

8 As I've indicated today, that could lead -- that 9 could lead to other things, or it could be an order saying 10 that you're not -- I don't think there are constructive trusts 11 in Bankruptcy Court. Maybe not quite that broad, but it could 12 be a No for a variety of reasons.

13 The other issue is the information. I'd like for 14 the Hoover Hull firm to file within 90 days a preliminary 15 report to the Court as to its position on equitable 16 subordination.

17 I'd like any party -- and I assume this is already 18 going on. But as documents have been conveyed to the 19 Trustee's counsel, Hoover Hull, I assume they're -- are they 20 made immediately available to other parties or how does that 21 work?

22 MR. WHITE: (not near microphone) We just got 23 permission from Fifth Third that the documents we have will be 24 delivered to Baker & Daniels so they can be uploaded to the 25 Trustee's data(unclear).

1 THE COURT: All right.

2 MR. WHITE: And any further documents that we 3 receive, we'll do that as well, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: So all documents that you receive are 5 going to be uploaded and available for purview by other 6 parties, so that they can come in here at a status, or a 7 hearing that we have in about 90 days, and we can discuss your 8 preliminary -- I understand you said you needed 120 days.
9 That's why I said preliminary --

10 MR. WHITE: Your Honor, is that report filed and 11 cleared -- is that available to anyone or is that just for the 12 Court? (Pause) Can I make a suggestion?

13 THE COURT: You can make a suggestion. I was 14 thinking that it would be available. But I understand that if 15 there is going to be litigation, you don't want to give away 16 your --

17 MR. WHITE: Exactly.

18 THE COURT: -- litigation strategies.

19 MR. WHITE: Exactly. What theor -- we had in mind 20 that their investigation was going to lead to was of course a 21 disclosure statement, so that people could make an intelligent 22 decision with regard to this plan.

23 The --

24 THE COURT: Well, I don't know. I mean, let's put it 25 this way. I think if the conclusion is that you don't think

1 you should pursue that or you don't think the Trustee should 2 pursue that, then I think you can explain why.

3 MR. WHITE: Thank you.

4 THE COURT: Because that would be the same kind of 5 information that you would anticipate would be in your 6 disclosure statement anyway.

7 Obviously if you think that you do want to pursue 8 it, then I think you should request from the Court some 9 guidelines as to how to release that information. You may 10 want confidentiality agreements with parties that are going 11 to, you know, that you're going to convey information to. But 12 they're going to be looking at the same documents and they 13 may, they may have questions for you in the event that your 14 division is No. And that's kind of what I'm hoping that this 15 release of information will accomplish.

16 Yes, Mr. Levin?

17 MR. LEVIN: Thank you, Your Honor. I understand the 18 issues involving standing and pari delicto, but could their 19 report also include any other causes of action that may exist 20 or why they do not exist, other than equitable subordination?
21 Equitable subordination is just one item here.

22 THE COURT: Well, that's fine. I think you've 23 already determined that certain other causes of action don't 24 exist. I mean, I've already ascertained that it's the 25 Trustee's position that as far as, for example, the perfection

1 of the security interest that you think their liens are valid, 2 is that correct?

3 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: Yes.

4 THE COURT: And yeah, I'd like for you to -- if you 5 have considered other claims or causes of action, and decided 6 not to pursue those, the same format.

7 MR. LEVIN: Thank you, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: If you are thinking that you're going 9 to, there again, I'm not going to ask you to splash that on the 10 record if it's going to be a matter of litigation.

11 MR. LEVIN: Thank you.

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MS. YATES: (Very difficult to hear, telephone 14 transmission) Jessica Yates for CPC Livestock.

15 May I ask a clarifying question? From the first 16 (unclear) trust order is that the procedure the Court will be 17 following, then the Trustee filed a reply on December 8th in 18 support of its motion for partial summary judgment. They 19 raised two new arguments: One based on CPC's Section 702 and 20 another based on the Bankruptcy Code, and this is something 21 that I know my client would like to respond to, and that there 22 may be other (unclear) also respond to that.

23 THE COURT: All right, how long do you need? How 24 long do you need?

25 MS. YATES: Your Honor, I was thinking it would be

1 helpful to have a couple weeks (unclear) to file a (unclear)

2 THE COURT: You can have until January the 3rd.

3 MS. YATES: Thank you, Your Honor.

4 UNIDENTIFIED FEMALE: That's for anyone, Your Honor?

5 THE COURT: Anyone that wants to file that, a 6 surreply to that reply by the Trustee on its motion for 7 summary judgment. Mr. Rogers.

8 MR. ROGERS: If I may, Your Honor. On the general 9 subject of disclosure and information, I know one thing that's 10 come up on a number of occasions that I would request on 11 behalf of Superior relates to the Trustee's budgets.

12 There's been a lot of discussion about what, what 13 has occurred and what has not occurred and what role Fifth 14 Third played in it. We of course don't know anything other 15 than what we could glean from the time records. And I know 16 the Court has on occasion indicated surely there's something 17 in there they could give us. We received nothing in that 18 regard.

19 We also requested the preliminary report from Hoover 20 Hull (unclear). We never received any answer to that request, 21 whether we can see it or not see it.

22 MS. HALL: Your Honor, just briefly. In the second 23 Trustee's status update conference call with all the creditors
24 that we had right before this hearing, we -- I admit, we did 25 not disclose the budget. And I think a couple hearings ago we

1 said we would without litigation, disclosure in there. And I
2 told everybody that we would do that. So we will get that on 3 the blog today. As to the preliminary report Mr. Rogers
4 wasn't at the meeting, so maybe he doesn't remember, but I 5 don't know that.

6 MR. ROGERS: I was not there. But certainly in 7 responding to the fee applications, information like that 8 would be helpful.

9 THE COURT: All right. I want to move through, I 10 want to move through the agenda now. All right, this is it.

11 MR. LaTOUR: I just want to give you a hopeful fact, 12 Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Go ahead.

14 MR. LaTOUR: Third Bank did not veto any action 15 taken by or contemplated by the Trustee on the basis of the 16 budget. There was no action taken with respect to the budget.
17 So the budget is not going to be very insightful to prove the 18 point that Fifth Third's running the case because we had no 19 input at all on it.

20 THE COURT: All right. Look, I'm not -- well, I'm 21 not going to get into that because I already made this way too 22 freewheeling already. But maybe it's been helpful to a 23 certain extent.

24 All right, let's move through the matters on the 25 agenda. The -- under continued matters, matter (1)(a) is the 1 Stockman Oklahoma Livestock Marketing, Inc. This is the 2 Trustee's --

3 ATTORNEY: That's the constructive trust matter.

4 THE COURT: -- that's the constructive trust
5 matter. And we've got the interpleader, plaintiff's joint 6 dispositive issue and memorandums that we've seen. And I 7 think this is just all the responses to that, right?

8 MR. CARR: That's right, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: And I've indicated that the Court's 10 going to rule on the constructive trust issue as promptly as 11 possible.

12 We've dealt with Item #2, the Peoples Bank and Trust 13 item. That's set for trial and hearing on the motion for 14 relief in February.

15 We've got the -- then we've got the three fee apps 16 with multiple objections. Does anybody want to add anything 17 to that matter?

18 MR. CARR: I'd like to say a few more things. I 19 never quite got to respond. We've never had a chance to 20 respond to these objections.

21 THE COURT: All right.

22 MR. CARR: And a lot of what I was going to say I've 23 already said, so --

24 THE COURT: All right, you don't need to respond.
25 I'm going to grant the fee apps.

1 MR. CARR: Great.

2 THE COURT: The Ad Hoc Committee, there are 3 objections from the U.S. Trustee and the -- I think also the 4 Trustee.

5 MR. LaTOUR: And Fifth Third, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: And Fifth Third, yes. Mr. Wharton, you 7 want to be heard on that?

8 MR. WHARTON: (not near microphone) Our claim is 9 pretty simple. Our concerns are twofold. We don't want them 10 to have a privileged protection (unclear) and we want to make 11 certain they continue to and comply with Rule 2019.

12 MS. HALL: And that's essentially the Trustee's 13 objection.

14 THE COURT: Yes, what about that? I mean, I don't 15 see -- I don't want to create a new privilege. Is that a deal 16 breaker as far as you're concerned, Mr. Ames?

17 MR. AMES: Your Honor, since you put it like that, I 18 guess it isn't.

19 THE COURT: Okay. And the other -- the compliance 20 with the rule would entail what, Mr. Wharton?

21 MR. WHARTON: Just for the disclosure to the extent 22 there's any change in the ownership or the counsel's 23 involvement.

24 MS. HALL: The only other kind of just procedural 25 issue, Your Honor, in the interest of not injecting yet

1 another party into the case, they're not hiring counsel for 2 the Ad Hoc Committee. So it would be -- I don't know if Mr.
3 Rogers contacts me, whether he's speaking for the Ad Hoc 4 Committee, whether he's speaking for Superior or Ms. DelCotto, 5 if she's speaking for one of her 20 clients or for the Ad Hoc 6 Committee.

7 THE COURT: Well, yeah. I mean, for example, I
8 mean, I'm a little bit unclear as to how this will work, too, 9 because it is kind of an unusual situation. But, for example, 10 you know, today everybody had to file an objection to the fee 11 app.

12 Do you anticipate that if there is a sort of Ad Hoc 13 Committee, that still every party will file an objection to a 14 motion, or that there'll be one? Because when you say that 15 there's not going to be counsel for that Ad Hoc Committee, 16 then that makes me wonder for really if there's any economies 17 that are being realized here.

18 MR. AMES: Well, Your Honor, when this first came 19 up, it was too hot outside, and I think we first thought of it 20 in the summer, after four attorneys were out in the hallway 21 expressing frustrations as to a number of issues, one having 22 to do with a lack of information. And there becomes a point I 23 think in any case where enough perception becomes fact. And 24 these four parties, who are all signatories, and I guess by 25 virtue of (unclear), I'm on first, they can say what they

1 feel, but we all felt that we had common issues, common ways
2 to proceed in this case, and to move it along and get the sort 3 of information that we wanted. We felt that it would be more 4 of (unclear) coming from an Ad Hoc Committee since there was 5 no official Creditors' Committee been appointed in this case.

6 And I think in Laura Day's response, she said that 7 typically you have that -- that third leg of the stool in 8 order to kind of counterbalance the situation.

9 THE COURT: I guess my question more specifically, 10 let's say, for example, the next fee petition you object to, 11 all of you object. Will I get an objection from the Ad Hoc 12 Committee, or will I get a objec -- and signed by whom, if 13 there is no -- signed by all four attorneys?

14 MR. AMES: Probably all four.

15 THE COURT: So I get an objection, one pleading 16 that's from the Ad Hoc Committee but it will be signed by all 17 four attorneys. Is that how you anticipate?

18 MR. AMES: Yes.

19 MR. LaTOUR: Yes, sir.

20 THE COURT: All right.

21 MS. HALL: They can do that already.

22 ATTORNEY: (unclear, not near microphone), they can 23 do that now (unclear)

24 THE COURT: Well, as long as -- I mean, what's the 25 harm if they're not going to get paid by the Court, they're

1 not going to have a privilege, an additional privilege, and 2 they need to comply with the disclosure?

3 MS. HALL: Are they waiving now any right to recover
4 from the estate for any benefit by the virtue of the Ad Hoc 5 Committee, is that what --

6 THE COURT: What do you mean by that?

7 MR. AMES: Well, under --

8 MR. AMES: (Unclear) contribution, I think, Judge, 9 is all the same.

10 THE COURT: Oh.

11 MR. AMES: And if they had a different conflict.

12 MS. HALL: There also doesn't seem to be any 13 statutory basis for the Court to recognize an Ad Hoc Committee 14 or appoint it. I mean, if they want to be one, they can be 15 one. But they can't have all the other stuff that they want.

16 THE COURT: What other stuff do they want now?

17 MR. LaTOUR: Your Honor, can I address a couple of 18 things? First of all, they want to manufacture standing 19 situations that are inappropriate.

20 THE COURT: Like when?

21 MR. LaTOUR: Okay, let's take First Bank for 22 example. First Bank has filed a proof of claim in the case 23 asserting a 7.5 million dollar secured claim. The basis for 24 the claim is that some cattle that should have been somebody 25 else's than Eastern's got mixed into the Eastern estate and

1 got turned into money. Technically, that's really an argument
2 that those proceeds are not property of the bankruptcy estate 3 rather than a secured claim.

4 But for conversation ease, call it a secured claim, 5 if it's ever substantiated. But what it definitely is not is 6 an unsecured claim, even if there is a deficiency. Because 7 First Bank never lent a dime to Eastern Livestock. First Bank
8 never did any transactions with Eastern Livestock. It can 9 never be an unsecured creditor in this case, even if its 10 theory is upheld 100 per cent.

11 And yet, First Bank proposes to be a very active 12 member on this Committee that's being proposed so there is 13 some more oomph to provide a little more gravitas to the 14 opinions, should not be participating on things like equitable 15 subordination which would only benefit unsecured creditors, or 16 constructive trust issues, things that are actually against 17 his client's interest really because they are trying to get 18 cattle into the estate and then saying it's his rather than 19 keep cattle out, but that's beside the point.

20 He doesn't -- his client does not have standing on 21 these issues, but if he's part of a Committee that's then 22 granted standing, they can come in on any issue they want any 23 time. And if you look at the literature of Ad Hoc Committees, 24 standing is figured out for those committees based on what the 25 participants already have. They don't get new standing.

1 And it's ad hoc in total. So if there are twelve 2 people on the committee, and nine of them want to do A and 3 three of them want to do B, there's nothing that prohibits the 4 three outliers from filing whatever they want or disagreeing.
5 But now there will be significant conversations about whether 6 a privilege was being abused because one of them wants to use 7 a fact learned in a conversation with the other one.

8 And the most important point is, is all the 9 economies they want to assume they can do with a joint defense 10 agreement that doesn't require any kind of order from this 11 Court or any kind of new entity or any new complexity in this 12 case or yet another, you know, size of the table to argue 13 about.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Next.

15 MR. ROGERS: Your Honor, if I can interject a couple 16 of comments on this.

17 We already have a situation that involves many of 18 the same elements that counsel is talking about, in that we 19 have motions being filed by the Trustee on behalf of the 20 estate, and being briefed as well by Fifth Third whose 21 interests are derived from the estate. And Fifth Third being 22 joined as a --

23 THE COURT: All right, talk about your -- talk 24 about your situation.

25 MR. ROGERS: Well --

1 THE COURT: I mean, let's talk about, well, first 2 of all, is there -- I mean, do you have a secured creditor as 3 part of your Ad Hoc Unsecured Creditors' Committee?

4 MR. ROGERS: It's not really denominated as 5 unsecured.

6 THE COURT: It's not unsecured. It's just ad hoc.

7 MR. ROGERS: I mean I think everybody understands 8 from the disclosures that have been filed the nature of our 9 interests.

10 THE COURT: Right.

11 MR. ROGERS: But it's --

12 THE COURT: Well --

13 MR. ROGERS: I don't see how it complicates things 14 in any way --

15 THE COURT: What about their concern that you're 16 going to come in at the end of the case and say you're 17 entitled to administrative expenses because of substantial 18 contribution? I mean what would be -- go ahead.

19 MR. ROGERS: We've never suggested that we intended 20 to do that, nobody's asked. I don't know if we even have any 21 opinion that hasn't been thought about.

22 MR. AMES: Your Honor, the only person that suggests 23 that is Ms. Hall, and if that was an offer, we may accept it.

24 MR. ROGERS: The confidentiality is certainly 25 important to us. I don't know how it's any different from the

1 confidentiality that the Trustee and the bank requested 2 regarding their discussions about budgets, our budgets. If 3 this is advisory, I don't understand why that wasn't advisory, 4 and that was entered in an order.

5 MR. CARR: Your Honor --

6 MR. ROGERS: If it's (unclear, both talking at the 7 same time, neither near a microphone. UNCLEAR)

8 MR. CARR: There is no order that says that the 9 discussions between the Trustee and the bank are confidential.
10 There's no such thing.

11 MR. ROGERS: The financing motion --

12 MR. CARR: It says the budgets are confidential.

13 MR. ROGERS: And if you read the motion, the motion 14 says, "Here's why, because we're going to have these 15 discussions about strategy."

16 MR. CARR: It doesn't say that the discussions are 17 confidential.

18 MR. ROGERS: Can I --

19 MR. CARR: (Unclear)

20 THE COURT: All right, all right.

21 MR. DONNELLON: I can make a suggestion that we take 22 a brief break and let the persons who are on this Committee 23 chat about this as new developments that occurred today may be 24 something that we can jointly discuss, that may address some 25 of these concerns. Would that be beneficial?

1 I really wanted to stand up between Mr. Rogers and 2 Mr. Carr. Five, ten minutes might be appropriate to move some 3 of this along.

4 THE COURT: All right, we'll come back to this.

5 MR. DONNELLON: Okay.

6 THE COURT: And then I'll allow you to do that. But 7 I want to see what else we've got.

8 We got the adversary proceedings then. We've got 9 Superior. Go back to the very beginning of today's case, or 10 hearing, Mr. Bowles, and tell me why me ruling on forward 11 contracts isn't going to just delay getting things done in the 12 rest of the case.

13 MR. BOWLES: (not near microphone) Well, first of 14 all, you've got to remember what we've asked for, partial 15 judgment on the pleadings --

16 THE COURT: Right.

17 MR. BOWLES: -- is something that says what was our 18 status. This won't delay anything because it comes down to 19 this: It is possible, probably not, likely given Mr. Carr's 20 statements, he may never sue Superior or anybody knows who 21 might have formed contracts, but they haven't sued them yet.

22 This is basically something that we said we want to 23 (unclear) them to try to clear (unclear) because if it turns 24 out that --

25 THE COURT: Well, why do you need a dec action now

1 that you're actually in an action action?

2 MR. BOWLES: They're in an action action.

3 THE COURT: Well, you responded to the Trustee's 4 motion for summary judgment, right?

5 MR. BOWLES: Yes, but the Trustee's motion for 6 summary judgment wasn't on any of those issues of preferences.
7 Those have been tabled.

8 The only thing that we've responded to in the 9 motions for summary judgment is their motion on constructive 10 trust, an entirely different issue, we got a surreply and I 11 won't -- bite my tongue and not go into there.

12 But on this one, ruling on this basically resolves 13 issues, because it's going to be disagreed about no matter 14 what. If Your Honor rules and says -- and Your Honor could 15 go, "Yes, we automatically (unclear) on everything; no, we 16 don't (unclear) anything," or someplace in the middle, that at 17 least gives us an idea of where we're going.

18 Otherwise, if there was ever a chance for discussion 19 of settlement, they have one position, we have another one, 20 and probably there would be credibility (unclear).

21 So this doesn't complicate anything.

22 It also, Your Honor, goes for other people. These 23 people keep saying these aggressive creditors want stuff for 24 themselves. No, Your Honor. First of all, we aren't 25 particularly aggressive. We are vigilant in our rights, but 1 not aggressive.

2 Secondly and more importantly, Your Honor, if you 3 establish as a matter of law that what we've said is correct, 4 then any other party who had this type of contract, you don't 5 have to hear all those preference suits. They might get rid 6 of the 150 preference suits, and that doesn't (unclear)
7 because basically it's what Congress has provided.

8 That's why it doesn't hurt anything, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: All right. I'll rule on your motion as 10 I've indicated I would in the past, and I will do -- Friona, 11 go ahead, Mr. Donnellon.

12 MR. DONNELLON: Can I just interrupt since you said 13 you were going to table that. We -- it's been whispered to me 14 why don't we suggest that we pass on the ruling on the Ad Hoc 15 Committee motion until the next omnibus so we can discuss this 16 more fully.

17 THE COURT: All right, why don't we do this, too.
18 Why don't you, if you're still seeking that, amend your motion 19 and set forth that (a), you're not seeking confidentiality, or 20 privilege I should say. And (b), that you're reserving the 21 right to ask for administrative payment as making a 22 substantial contribution, or you're not. You reserve it or 23 don't reserve it.

24 And then I'll set it for the next omnibus.

25 Friona, I think we've got briefed. Is it fully 1 briefed, summary judgment.

2 MR. LaTOUR: Your Honor, I'm sorry to interrupt.
3 Superior, there was a motion to defer briefing that was not 4 addressed.

5 THE COURT: Oh, yes, there is a motion to defer 6 briefing.

7 MR. LaTOUR: Your Honor, I don't understand why 8 there should be a deferral because the rules don't contemplate 9 that if there's one motion pending, everybody else is 10 precluded from filing their own motions. Because the 12(c) 11 motion exists, there's nothing that precludes my client from 12 filing a Rule 56 motion.

13 And as a practical matter, it doesn't slow anything 14 down because we're talking about the exhibits that they 15 uploaded as evidence for their motion, and we're talking about 16 the same legal issues. It provides a procedural basis for 17 Your Honor that if you decide that they --

18 THE COURT: Isn't your -- isn't his motion, and I
19 might be confusing this, because it's been -- isn't his motion 20 just basically the opposite of yours?

21 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: Your Honor, let me first say, 22 I don't know if there's a huge issue to us, but it is the 23 opposite of ours but goes beyond it. And really I think the 24 point of our motion to defer, we don't challenge their right 25 to file the motion. We understand that. But a significant

1 part of it deals with the same issues. And because, you know, 2 -- we're trying to economically represent our client as best 3 we can.

4 Does the Court want us to brief the same issues 5 multiple times because they're raised by two motions?

6 THE COURT: Well, I would hope that you know, as to 7 the -- the issues that have been fully briefed on your motion, 8 that you're all not going to give me briefs on the same issues 9 again.

10 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: That's our view, Your Honor, 11 but it wasn't clear.

12 THE COURT: I mean, but he is right, isn't he, that 13 the scope of your motion is somewhat broader than the scope of 14 his motion?

15 MR. LaTOUR: On their motion, seeking judgment on 16 the pleadings, if you said No, all that happens is everybody's 17 back to square one.

18 THE COURT: Right.

19 MR. LaTOUR: If, in addition, in response to my 20 motion you said Yes, then those issues are disposed of. I 21 filed the motions to give you the opportunity to decide is it 22 Yes, they win; middle of the road, nobody wins; or yes, Fifth 23 Third wins?

24 THE COURT: I'm going to defer for 60 days for this 25 reason. I'm going to rule on theirs. And that's a point that

1 I hadn't really thought of that you just -- because after all,
2 nobody will really have to appeal that decision because it 3 really is just back to square one.

4 MR. LaTOUR: Right.

5 THE COURT: And so in order not to have an immediate 6 pending appeal, I'm going to defer for 60 days the briefing 7 schedule on your motion for summary judgment.

8 MR. LaTOUR: Thank you, Your Honor.

9 Now may I address the comment made about whether 10 their motion is helpful or not? Your Honor, I would 11 respectfully submit that even if you rule in favor of them, 12 it's not helpful at all.

13 A Chapter 5 avoidance action is transaction
14 specific. It's going to depend on each actor, whether there 15 was a transfer from the estate, whether that transaction was 16 the kind of transaction that fits into a forward contract or 17 something like it.

18 So if you drape them with the status of doing 19 forward contracts sometimes somewhere in some circumstances, 20 that does not answer the question on any particular transfer, 21 whether that status is appropriate. And so for any so-called 22 advisory opinion on the status, really doesn't help with 23 anything.

24 THE COURT: Well, I do think you're right in terms 25 of there are different factual -- I mean, I think even they

1 have acknowledged that some of these contracts are different
2 than others. So I --

3 MR. LaTOUR: Well, I point out, Your Honor, that the 4 sequence is completely backwards. Normally the Trustee files 5 an action to avoid the specific transfer, and you've got to 6 say who, what, where, when, where, how. And then defenses are 7 raised, and a 546(d) or (g) defense would be appropriate, 8 because then you know what transaction you're talking about.

9 THE COURT: I understand. But Mr. Bowles decided to 10 bring it as a declaratory judgment action, and as far as I can 11 tell, the rules allow him to do that. Believe me, I've tried 12 to see if they don't.

13 MR. LaTOUR: I'm not disputing that he can tee it up 14 that way. I'm suggesting that the holding is ultimately not 15 useful at all because you still have to go look at every 16 transaction that is under attack to determine whether the 17 holding is applicable or not.

18 THE COURT: All right, I understand. We're having a 19 sale on useless holdings in this case. All right.

20 Friona, I asked the question if that's fully 21 briefed.

22 MR. TONER: Not as to the first one on our trust 23 issues. You just still have the surreply briefing to go 24 forward --

25 THE COURT: Yes, (unclear) yes.

1 MR. TONER: -- but then it will be fully briefed.

2 There is another summary judgment by Superior on 3 five lots of cattle that's not fully briefed as yet. And I
4 don't know where the Cactus, Robert Nichols summary judgment
5 is, but I don't think it's fully briefed either.

6 UNIDENTIFIED: (unclear) right, Jim?

7 THE COURT: So the --

8 MR. TONER: He's not here. He might be on the 9 phone, but I don't think it's fully briefed either. So 10 discovery is going forward while this briefing gets complete.

11 THE COURT: All right. But --

12 MS. YATES: (poor phone audibility) Your Honor, this 13 is Jessica Yates speaking to you. If I might offer a 14 (unclear) impression to the Trustee's comment on the fully 15 briefing the motion for summary judgment and partial summary 16 judgment.

17 The Trustee has also filed a motion for relief 18 (unclear) evidence, (unclear) filed a motion for partial 19 summary judgment. And that motion was filed on the 8th. We 20 have not had an opportunity to object to that, and so that's 21 again, along with a surreply, would be one long (unclear) 22 another (unclear) for additional briefing. So I did want to 23 make that (unclear).

24 THE COURT: All right.

25 MR. TONER: Perhaps that could be done by the 6th,

1 as one response.

2 MS. YATES: Your Honor --

3 MR. TONER: I mean the 3rd.

4 THE COURT: Could you respond by the 3rd on that 5 also then?

6 MS. YATES: Yes, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: All right, that will be fine.

8 MR. DAWSON: If the Court please, this is Jack 9 Dawson. I represent Nichols Livestock, an adversary with 10 Cactus, and I am finishing up a motion for summary judgment as 11 we speak, and probably will have it filed later today.

12 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

13 MS. MOORE: Your Honor, I --

14 THE COURT: I've been hoping for a motion for 15 summary judgment. Yes?

16 MS. MOORE: You may have to settle for a surreply.

17 THE COURT: All right.

18 MS. MOORE: Christy Moore for Superior.

19 We had filed a motion for judgment on the pleadings 20 on a discrete issue with respect to specific sales. It 21 involved about $380,000 --

22 THE COURT: Right.

23 MS. MOORE: -- for some specific clients.

24 We filed our reply brief on November 28th which 25 should have closed the pleadings last night. There were some

1 additional papers filed that in all honesty I have not looked 2 at them in depth but they look to be some supplementaries, 3 some reply replies.

4 I would just like for Superior to have an 5 opportunity to do a surreply if --

6 THE COURT: This is in Friona, your motion --

7 MS. MOORE: It is in the Friona, yes.

8 THE COURT: Your motion for a partial summary
9 judgment.

10 MS. MOORE: I believe so, Your Honor.

11 MR. MASSOUH: Your Honor, John Massouh on behalf of 12 Friona.

13 I think Ms. Moore might be a little confused --

14 MS. MOORE: I could be. It was late last night.

15 MR. MASSOUH: Is she referring -- there's two 16 motions for judgment on the pleadings filed by Superior.
17 There's one in the Superior adversary and one in the Friona 18 adversary.

19 THE COURT: Right.

20 MR. MASSOUH: The Superior adversary deals with all 21 the (unclear) contract, we've already discussed that.

22 MS. MOORE: Correct.

23 MR. MASSOUH: I think the pleadings are closed on 24 that, and Your Honor can issue an opinion at some point.

25 THE COURT: Right.

1 MR. MASSOUH: The other motion for judgment on the 2 pleading filed by Superior in the Friona adversary deals with,
3 I believe four or five specific sets of cattle --

4 MS. MOORE: Correct.

5 MR. MASSOUH: -- delivered to Friona in Cactus.
6 There's some confusion whether or not that was a motion for 7 judgment on the pleadings, whether it a motion for summary
8 judgment. What we did was, under the deadline we filed a 9 response as if it was a motion for judgment on the pleadings.
10 They've attached a bunch a evidence, we deemed it (unclear, 11 not near microphone; fuzzy pick-up).

12 In the conclusion, I believe the request was for 13 partial summary judgment, so we didn't know what it was, and 14 so late yesterday when the deadline is today to file a 15 response if it was a motion for summary judgment, we filed our 16 response to that as if it was a motion for summary judgment.
17 Obviously she'll have an opportunity to reply to our response 18 and so the briefing on that is not yet complete.

19 MS. MOORE: That's what I wanted to make sure.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MS. MOORE: Okay.

22 THE COURT: So that, I believe if you all have your 23 agendas, I believe that's on page 7, item F.

24 MR. MASSOUH: I think that's -- yes, item F, yes, 25 Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Yes. Okay. So that's not -- the 2 pleadings are not closed in that matter.

3 MR. MASSOUH: Correct. And we filed our responses
4 to the motion for summary judgment yesterday, and they haven't 5 had an opportunity to reply yet.

6 THE COURT: All right. The Innovative Livestock vs.
7 Eastern.

8 (Low-voiced discussions)

9 MR. CARR: There was a withdrawal of the motion to 10 stay proceedings in that, by Superior I believe, so I don't 11 think that's still pending.

12 THE COURT: So that's still -- so the -- 13 MS. HALL: There's just nothing going on.

14 THE COURT: There's nothing going on.

15 MR. CARR: There is not.

16 THE COURT: All right. Let's don't touch it then.
17 Rush Creek Ranch.

18 MR. NEWBERN: Your Honor, this is Scott Newbern on 19 behalf of the Florida Livestock Markets.

20 I understand that we have consolidated the matter
21 with respect to the Rush Creek Ranch with some other matters 22 that are covered by virtually the same set of fact patterns
23 that includes the Miller matter and some of the receivables 24 that the Trustee claims are receivables, and we object to 25 that.

1 We have not yet set up a schedule. We're going to 2 be working on that, and we'll have something within the next 3 month I would anticipate.

4 MR. TONER??: That's right.

5 THE COURT: All right, so when you say consolidate--

6 MR. NEWBERN: We're consolidating a number of 7 matters into one, either through an adversary proceeding or --

8 THE COURT: But it's not been accomp -- this 9 consolidation has not been accomplished yet.

10 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: I don't believe it has --

11 MR. NEWBERN: Only by agreement.

12 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: -- by the Court yet.

13 MS. HALL: A lot of Mr. Newbern's issues with the 14 Trustee came out of the purchase made claims report, and 15 rather than set up another contested matter, he's flowing into 16 Rush Creek.

17 MR. NEWBERN: Yes. If we could do it that way, 18 whatever is --

19 THE COURT: Well, that's fine. I don't care 20 procedurally how you bring it to a head, as long as you all 21 agree --

22 MR. NEWBERN: Right.

23 THE COURT: -- how to do it.

24 ATTORNEY: We do.

25 THE COURT: Very good. So I'll show that matter as

1 continued for status. Fredin Brothers.

2 MR. TONER: The only thing, Your Honor, is the 3 Trustee's motion to amend our answer out of caution to assert 4 our -- filed in ordinary course affirmative defense. I don't 5 think there's even been an objection to that.

6 THE COURT: I'll grant that motion.

7 MR. LAIRD: Your Honor, this is David Laird on 8 behalf of Peoples Bank (unclear) again.

9 THE COURT: Yes. I'm sorry, did you want to say 10 something?

11 MR. LAIRD: Yes, Your Honor, can you hear me?

12 THE COURT: Yes. Yes.

13 MR. LAIRD: Back to the Trustee (unclear, poor 14 telephone audibility) but we want to make two additional quick 15 related points.

16 The motion to amend the cross claim was brought in 17 response to the motion for summary judgment, brought by 18 Peoples Bank, related to priority security interest in 19 interpleading funds. I wanted to bring that to the attention 20 to the Court because it's now been fully briefed with 21 responses from the Trustee and Fifth Third.

22 THE COURT: All right. So we've got a -- we've got 23 a fully briefed, what, motion for summary judgment that you've 24 brought?

25 MR. LAIRD: Yes, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: I didn't have that on my docket, but 2 I'll -- is that --

3 MR. TONER: Let me double check that and make sure 4 that's correct. I think it is, but I'll need to check.

5 THE COURT: All right. Well, check that also, and 6 if it is a fully briefed motion for summary judgment, we'll 7 take that under submission and --

8 MR. TONER: The confusion is one summary judgment 9 was withdrawn and another -- a cross-motion for summary 10 judgment remained pending, so we'll need to check.

11 THE COURT: All right. Okay.

12 MR. CARR: Your Honor, one more thing.

13 THE COURT: Yes.

14 MR. CARR: I think it's good news. I want to tell 15 the Court that, and we've discussed this with creditors. The 16 Trustee is going to file a motion very shortly asking the 17 Court to appoint sort of a standing mediator, a la, Mr.
18 Fishman who we used in the Loft case that would allow people, 19 if they choose to do so, to have issues mediated.

20 And I just want to tell the Court we're going to be 21 putting that on file very shortly. We've identified somebody 22 that was recommended to us by the National Association --

23 UNIDENTIFIED COUNSEL: National Cattlemen's Beef
24 Association.

25 MR. CARR: And so that motion will be coming. The 1 concept will be that that will be off the side, off the scene, 2 and the Court won't be apprised of that, but hopefully it can 3 lead to some resolutions. And I think we already have one 4 request from a party to mediate a matter under that.

5 THE COURT: All right. Very good. Anything else to 6 come before the Court today?

7 Hearing nothing, we are adjourned.

8 (End at 12:09 p.m.)

10 I certify that the foregoing is as true and accurate 11 a transcript as can be produced from a low-volume telephonic 12 hearing with many, many lawyers on the telephone, low echoing 13 audibility in the courtroom, and lack of adequate microphones 14 for all attorneys in the courtroom. It was produced, with 15 difficulty, from the digitally sound recorded record of the 16 proceedings.
